

Carleton University
School of Public Policy and Administration
Assistant Professor (Indigenous Policy and Administration)
Application Closing Date: 15 November 2014

The School of Public Policy and Administration at Carleton University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Indigenous Policy and Administration, effective 1 May 2015. Through research, teaching and supervision, the successful candidate will participate in the development and delivery of the School's graduate programs in Indigenous policy and administration.

Candidates should have earned a PhD in a relevant discipline by 1 May 2015 or soon thereafter, and have demonstrated promise of excellence in research and teaching related to Indigenous policy and administration. Priority will be given to candidates with active research programs and teaching competencies that reflect the diversity of First Nation, Métis and Inuit circumstances in Canada, and who have developed expertise in models of Indigenous governance, intergovernmental affairs, economic and community development and/or Indigenous management. A variety of methodological approaches are welcome and encouraged. Experience living in an Indigenous setting or working with Indigenous organizations and governments would be an asset. Persons who identify as Indigenous are particularly invited to apply.

Applications should include a curriculum vitae, a statement of research interest, a teaching portfolio with a statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of effectiveness, and one or more research papers or publications. The application materials should be sent electronically as separate pdf documents to: Dr. Calum Carmichael, Director, School of Public Policy and Administration, Calum.Carmichael@carleton.ca (5217 River Building, Carleton University, 1125 Colonel By Drive, Ottawa, Ontario Canada K1S 5B6; telephone 613-520-2600 ext. 2631 or 2547). Applicants should also arrange to have three confidential letters of reference sent electronically directly to the School. All materials must be received by 15 November 2014. Please indicate in your application if you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

The School is a recognized centre of academic excellence in public policy and management. It is the largest and oldest school of its kind in Canada and is well known internationally, offering a PhD in Public Policy, MA in Public Administration, a joint MA in Sustainable Energy, the Master of Philanthropy and Nonprofit Leadership, the graduate Diploma in Indigenous Policy and Administration, and the graduate Diploma in Public Policy and Program Evaluation. The School's multidisciplinary faculty members are engaged in diverse research and teaching initiatives, and are regularly called upon for their expertise by government departments, NGOs and international agencies.
