

BORDERS IN GLOBALIZATION

Logistic support for the Borders in Globalization (BIG) Conference September 24-27, 2014

The Department of Geography and Environmental Studies is hiring two students for logistic support to the Borders in Globalization Conference. The BIG Conference will be held at Carleton University on September 25-26, 2014 and will receive approximately 100 scholars and non-academic partners working on border issues.

Students will have the following tasks:

- Prepare bags and nameplates the day before the Conference (September 24);
- Receive participants for registration (September 25-26);
- Set up equipment and nameplates for the plenary and breakout sessions (September 25-26);
- Receive and take care of the participants during the cross-border fieldtrip (September 27).

Students will receive payment for 30 hours of work ($15/hour). More information on the Conference is available on the BIG website: <http://www.biglobalization.org>

Applicants must submit a curriculum vitae and a statement of interests. Please send applications to Dr. Victor Konrad, Director, Borders in Globalization Project, Department of Geography and Environmental Studies (Victor.Konrad@carleton.ca) and Laetitia Rouviere, Post-Doctoral Fellow, Borders in Globalization Project, Department of Geography and Environmental Studies (Laetitia.Rouviere@carleton.ca).
